Employ Your Own Support Workers

Make your own decisions about your support needs through this unique service. Pioneered by our founders – people with disability – over 30 years ago, this service enables you to choose who helps you.

You might choose a friend, a neighbour or someone else you know and trust. You also choose when and how they support you – because you know best what your needs are.

How we support you

To help you employ your own Support Workers, Living My Way will:

- Support you with the recruitment process, including screening your candidates against your selection criteria and completing any working rights and security checks.
- Provide employment contracts that comply with all requirements.
- Onboard your Support Workers for you, whilst you look after their induction, ensuring they understand your care routine and needs.
- Show you how to use our user-friendly scheduling tool so that you can schedule your Support Worker shifts.
- Take care of all your payroll processing, including superannuation and ATO reporting.
- Take out and manage a Workers' Compensation Insurance Policy on your behalf, so that you are protected in the case of an incident.

Support Coordination

A Support Coordinator can help you understand what support services you need to reach your goals, review your NDIS funding and assist you to get the necessary supports in place. If you don't have services in place, we can assist you by linking you with providers, helping you to complete paperwork, and monitoring the effectiveness of the providers supporting you.

Our Support Coordinators can also help you when you require a change in NDIS funding. They can compile necessary reports and write supporting documents to help the NDIS fund you more appropriately.

The benefits for you

- ✓ Be connected to service providers within and beyond the NDIS
- ✓ Save time and effort as we manage all the paperwork and admin
- ✓ We teach and empower you to manage your NDIS funding efficiently
- ✓ We can assist you with difficult situations such as terminating services with a provider or negotiating services and pricing on your behalf

Plan Management

We understand that claiming your NDIS funding and paying provider invoices can be confusing and stressful. So, we take care of the admin work – paying your provider invoices for the support and services you receive as part of your NDIS plan. Without the hassle of managing your payments, you can live life your way.

The benefits for you

- ✓ You can choose your providers, meaning you won't be restricted to using only NDIS registered providers, giving you greater flexibility and control
- ✓ You'll save valuable time and effort
